THE ELONEN-WRIGHT STUFF

Hang in there! We've got a little snow left, so let's use it! And don't forget those lucky 30 people going to Morzine, France and Barcelona, Spain in 2 weeks. Their FUN in the SNOW and SUN is just about to start!

Meanwhile, back here in good, ole Cleveland; we're going through THAT time of year again. You know what I mean. The nominating committee has been formed and they're going to be calling YOU to see if you'll run for office and support your favorite ski club. Please consider running. We need dedicated people like you to help us.

This past year was one of extreme luck for me. I was elected your president AND BETTER YET was lucky enough to have a slate of talented, fun, hard-working officers and committee chairs to help with everything. All their volunteering to pitch in really made a difference. Thank you!

The nominating committee for this year is Annie Easley, Karen Fashimpaur and Tom Jones. Please make their job easier by volunteering to run for office.

Perhaps I shouldn't say this, or maybe you'd like to use this argument in your favor, but do you how much being your ski club president has cost me this last year?!! I'm fully equipped for cross-country skiing. That's not a problem. But alpine, well... First, I felt that I should go on a couple of the alpine one-day trips, at least. And, that I should have at least my own alpine boots... Jim bought me not only boots, but also $ki$ and pole$. I $uffered from $ticker $hock for a week. After recovering from that I realized that I also needed the CLOTHES for alpine skiing. You know I do. So, I just bought a jacket and bibs. We're starting to add up to real money, here, people! Someone run against me, beat me in the elections and stop me!!!!

OK, enough silliness. Back to business: We're starting to plan out the schedule for spring/summer/fall. Tony Shook, our VP-Activities, has a couple of ideas, and he's looking for more. What would you like to do with a group this year? Let's make it happen.

We're also starting to think about our ski trips for next year. Two of our members went on familiarization trips to find out more about those ski destinations. Watch for Victoria Briscoe's report on her trip to Steamboat Springs (in the next newsletter) and Bruce Frankenfield's report on his trip to the Quebec area. We'll be finding out what they learned and mixing that in with some other tried and true plans to generate another year of fine skiing opportunities. Annie Easley is the trip planning committee chair. Give your ideas to her or to any member of the ski club board. Thanks in advance!

See you at the club meeting on Tuesday. Tom Wallett (our social chair) has a fun evening planned for us - I don't want to say any more than that 'cause I'll give it away. See you Tuesday!

Skiingly yours,

Linda Elonen-Wright

Meeting & Membership News

Board Meeting The board meeting will be held March 20 at Frankie's restaurant on Great Northern Blvd in North Olmstead. Starting time will be 5:30

General Membership Meeting Tuesday, March 4, at BW3 on Center Ridge Road in Rocky River. Social hour starts at 5 and the business meeting starts at 6pm. BW3 is just north of the Westgate Mall on Center Ridge Road. Tom Wallett has a special surprise waiting for us.

Nominations We will be nominating people for the elective offices at this meeting and at the April meeting. We will vote on the nominees at the April meeting. Check out the club constitution at the website under Guides & Forms for elective offices and the associated duties. Being an officer is a great way to get involved and to meet the club members.

Missed the last Meeting?

Bill Pierce, an Olympic volunteer, came and shared his experiences as a driver for the Curling Teams at the Salt Lake City Olympics. Wearing his special you-had-to-do-it-to-get-it SLC uniform, he regaled us with tales of site security, how he managed to get the gig, and driving the curling teams to and from their competition

What to do for the Summer?

Alpine News

Fellow Alpine Enthusiasts:

The last time I wrote to you our season was well under way. Now we are coming to the end of our season

All the day trips and the first week-long trip have come and gone. From the reports everyone who signed up had a great time. At the time of this writing just the expedition to Morzine, France remains. The last day trip had to be canceled. Lots

The Skinny on Nordic

Our planned outings for the season have come and gone. The weather didn't cooperate for all of the local outings, but we did get in some skiing. See the trip reports below.

If you have ideas for places to x-country ski next year, please send them to me or to any of the officers. It's not too early to start planning.

If the snow holds and you get the urge to X-country ski let me know. Perhaps we can do an sites. Seems there is a lot more to curling than hurling a big rock down the ice. The sport has quit a bit a strategy in where to brush on the ice and where to place the rock. They aren't burnishing the ice just for grins and giggles. We all enjoyed an insider's interesting view of this great event.

The days are getting longer and the snow will soon be gone. It is time to start planning for some sun non-skiing activities.

Circle Tuesday, August 5th on your 2003 calendar. We have again reserved the W.J. Green Lodge in the Cleveland Metroparks for our summer picnic. A few activity ideas that we are working on include a family canoeing trip, white water rafting, a Lake County Captains --- the new Cleveland minor league team, baseball game, and a casino bus trip.

If you would like to get involved with any of these ideas or have an idea for another activity that the club would enjoy, please contact me.

of snow, just not enough skiers. I am sure our Morzine folks are chomping at the bit to go skiing. We can wish them a bon voyage at the next club meeting.

We are coming to the end of this ski season and are interested in where you would like to go next season. If you have any suggestions, please see myself, Annie Easley, or any club officer with your ideas.

Hope to see you on the slopes impromptu outing locally.

Wilderness Lodge

We had a great day of skiing at the Wilderness Lodge in Watsburg, PA. Nancy Pilch, Tom Haag, Mark Siebert, Sue Stanton and I toured most of the trails. We had about 4 inches of fresh fluffy snow on top of a good base. It was a brisk day, but most of the trails were through the woods, which kept us out of the wind. Nancy enjoyed a two-hour lesson and really improved her skate skiing. I had fun getting acquainted with Sue, a new club member. Tom and Mark, being a bit more athletic than I, kept a quick pace and scouted out the trails. We gathered in the lodge for soup and sandwiches for lunch and to warm up and dry out. Yes, cross-country skiers sweat, but it was a fun day.

North Chagrin Reservation

Saturday morning proved to be a good day to ski in North Chagrin Reservation. Nancy Amman, Steve

O'Brien, and I skied across the frozen swamp, wound our way through and over the woods, climbed hills and eventually toured along the Buckeye trail. There were some narrow, twisty downhill places that made life interesting. You might call it "back-country" skiing. All in all, it was a good leg stretcher and an invigorating way to start the weekend!

Racing Report - News too fast to print

The mighty little race team was mighty little at the first Kissing Bridge race, a slalom, on February 1. With three racers registered and two actually making it to the race, we did our best to carry the banner for NASA in Metro. John Schubert finished 9th in CCM, earning 4 points, and Kevin Spencer finished 8th in CSB, good for 5 points more. One racer fell victim to a rare meteorological phenomenon, which blew away his lift tickets, and made the path to the bus impassable in the morning. Ah well, there's always freeskiing!

The team had a bigger showing at Swain the following weekend. On Saturday, in the slalom, Mark Hyatt showed the equipment does matter, finally putting the short skis to good use and coming in 3rd in BM, Lisa Lambert hung in for a 5th in BW, and Elise Frankenfield held up for a solid 8th in CCVW. The team total of 19 points had us behind Goodyear yet again, but we haven't lost contact with them.

On Sunday in the Giant Slalom, the team was bolstered by the addition of Bruce Frankenfield, and made the most of extra point opportunities with the snowboard events. Mark skied to another solid 3rd in BM, Lisa maintained the team consistency with another 5th in BW, Bruce came up with a 6th in CCM, and Elise was another consistent competitor with an 8th in CCVW. In the snowboard GS,

With 17 riders competing in the C class, snowboarding is getting more competitive with every race. The team totaled 41 points, good enough to surge past Goodyear for the day, and only a hand-full behind for the season.

Next month, we'll provide a wrap up of the season, including the results from Combined at Bristol. Unfortunately, as of this writing, it looks as though your humble race chair will finish the season coaching from "Mahogany Ridge". I had an unfortunate encounter with a steel post and pipe at HoliMont. The duration of my downtime will be known after my appointment with the orthopedist. There's always next year for racing.

That's all for now, see you on the Ridge!

Your Humble, Wounded Race Chair

-- Mark Hyatt

The XC racers from the club in the Nordic Flurry were: Nancy Amman, Nancy Piltch, Harriet Pedone, Jim Wright and Linda Elonen-Wright. Other NASA folks there racing were Fletcher Miller and Peter Sunderland.

We wish Mark Hyatt a quick and complete recovery from his knee injury.

Holimont I Trip Report

It was cold, dark, snowy and 5:30 AM. Nominal conditions for a NASA one day Ski Trip. The destination today was Holimont. It was January 3rd and we counted 43 bus riders, 15 drive ups and two no shows. The drive to Ellicottville went smoothly if you consider forgetting to put a person on the access list and having four people wait in the weather outside the main gate as inconsequential.

We arrived at Holimont about 10:15 am to 20 MPH winds, light snow and about 3 inches of new snow (after missing the main entrance and looping through Ellicottville). After dispensing the tickets, herding people into the rental and lesson areas I was able to put on my own skis and made my first run at 11:30 am. The first trip participant I ran into was my good friend Joe McFarland at about noon. He had arrived a little late because he had to fix a flat tire. This, after driving until 6:00 am and sleeping in his car for two hours so as to be fresh for a day of skiing. We skied for about an hour and opted to lunch at the Main Lodge.

After having lunch with our new Irish friends from the East Side -- Mary O'Rielly, Theresa O'Rielly, Pat O'Keefe, Rita Richardson and Kathleen Brooks, we decided to hit the slopes. At this point we picked up Mark Hyatt. Also at this point I learned that one of the participants had a nasty wreck. Well, off with the skis and over to the First Aid Station. Here I found Malcolm Wood and the entire Ski Patrol standing over Lisa Ferenc trying to convince her that she needed immediate medical attention. At this point everyone looked at me and started trying to convince me that she needed immediate medical attention. At this point I admitted I had no medical training and had no idea how severe her injuries were. Well with that everybody went back trying to convince Lisa that she needed immediate medical attention. After about a hour of this she relented and I left to go skiing and of course she was fine.

As I was putting on my skis one of the members said I was being paged at the main office. Apparently Holimont felt that I should pay them for the 58 lift tickets they had provided. After clearing up this misunderstanding

Toni Rusnak sends "Thanks so much for all the well wishes on a speedy recovery. By the time this is published, I may be out of my cast and into physical therapy." (Toni had broken her arm)

You can reach me at
Nancy.D.Piltch@grc.nasa.gov, or 216-433-3637

I was back on the slopes at 3:30 PM. I skied for about a half hour by myself and then headed down to the bus to make sure everything was still going smoothly.

We loaded up the crew and headed into town for dinner. The five-minute trip to Ellicottville proved uneventful except that the bus driver dumped us off in a snow bank and couldn't find anywhere to park.

Everyone scattered to the winds with a bunch of us including the really loud Irish group from the East side going to the Brewery. The food was good and we retired to Madigan's bar for some of those cute little Vienna beers (8 oz) that Mark Hyatt likes so much.

At seven I headed over to the bus to say goodbye. I was staying in town for the weekend and wouldn't be heading back. After a teary-eyed goodbye and putting Malcolm Wood in charge I exited the bus. It was at this point that the trip hit kind of a smallish bad patch. The driver jumped off the bus and informed me the bus was leaking coolant. This meant that the heating system wouldn't be working too well and there was a possibility of the engine overheating. He had another bus coming from Cleveland to meet them if problems arose. Well at this point, after about 6 of those little Viennas, and after noting that the bus and it's passengers looked perfectly fine to me, I wished the driver good luck and trotted back to the warm, well-stocked bar.

So the trip was a total success and everything went smoothly except that the bus temperature dropped below 50 F on the way home and eventually broke down. This caused a minor delay and everyone was safely returned to Cleveland a few hours late.

We had eight new members on the trip; Theresa O'Reilly, Mary O'Reilly, Kathleen Brooks, Rita Richardson, Patricia O'Keefe, Dennis Mormile, Nicole Pataky, and Sue Lan Ma. The first 6 came as a group, Sue Lan Ma traveled by herself but was a friend of John Zoldi's who was on the trip and Nicole Pataky was a friend of Linda Elonon-Wright's daughter, Samara.

Holimont II - Valentine's Day Trip Report

Our trip started off without a hitch, as I was concerned with security and getting the bus and people on to NASA property. We left NASA five minutes late waiting for one person who closed the bar the night before and who shall remain nameless! Tony Shook and friends supplied the party for the back of the bus with beer, Bloody Mary's, and something mixed with Gatorade on the trip out. Weather for the day was about 20°, SUNNY and 2 inches of fresh snow. There seemed like a lot more.

When we got to Holimont the weather was great; SUNNY ALL DAY

Everybody was on the slopes by 10:30. Joe Roche and 2 of his children met the bus at Holimont. They snowboarded in the woods and, luckily, no trees were hit. We got back on the bus 15 minutes early to beat another ski club to Ellicottville for dinner. As we were waiting for everybody to get back to the bus; wine, homebrew beer, and summer sausage, cheese and crackers were served. I'd like to thank Heidi Balzly and Gail Vogt for bringing the food; we almost did not need to stop for dinner. Malcolm Wood supplied the wine, thank you also. Beer was supplied by your trip coordinator. This year, buses breaking down and Holimont go together when the bus driver tried to close the storage door, one would not close so a second door was opened to see what was wrong and that door would not close so now we have 2 doors stuck open! But thanks to some NASA engineers and our bus driver we got them closed and still beat the other ski club to town - good work.

Once we got to town people broke up into groups and went to the restaurant of their choice. As is tradition some people stopped Madigan's for some (OV) Old Viennese (8-ounce beer) before boarding the bus home.

When I got there Tony Shook and his merry party were there with a case of (OV) the party consisted of Tom, Sue Ayres, Dave, Kim Lehnardt, Matt, Laurie Delac and Greg Shook. Also at Madigan's were Annie Easley, Jerry Hill, Tammy Blaser, and Isay Krainsky. Everyone was back on the bus at 7:00 for the ride home; we had to wait a few minutes for the party group to get MORE BEER. Since it was Valentines Day we raffled off 4 boxes of chocolate on the way home. The three winners names that I got were Cathy Keys, Bob Kwiatkowski and Wally Rakowski. After the raffle Wally gave his box of Chocolate to Tammy Blaser as it was her birthday and the bus sang happy birthday to Tammy. The rest of the bus ride home was uneventful, several conversations going on and more partying towards the back of the bus.

New members on this trip were Sue & Tom Ayers, Cathy Coval, Laurie & Matt Delac, Michael Duerk, Steve Hershman, Cathy Keys, Eileen Kinney, Kim & Dave Lehnardt and Greg Shook.

Joe Gruden - Trip Coordinator

Ski Denton Trip Report

This year, Lewis Ski Club's only new ski destination was to Ski Denton, in north central Pennsylvania. This one-day bus trip took 26 adventuresome skiers looking for some new hills to conquer. The weather for this late January trip certainly cooperated for us -- temperatures in the mid 20's, no wind and periods of sunshine.

Ski Denton is slightly smaller in size than our other typical one-day destinations, but it does have an equivalent vertical height. Still, the ski resort had plenty of room, because when our bus arrived at Ski Denton, there were only 10 other skiers on the slopes! That meant no lift lines, wide open trails, plenty of room in the lodge and still some fresh snow still left over from a storm two days earlier. The Ski Denton staff was also very friendly and we were all off the bus and skiing in less than 15 minutes.

Ski Denton has a variety of trails from beginners to one trail that is advertised as the steepest trail in the east. Just picture Holiday Valley's "The Wall", but about 2-1/2 times longer and void of any ice patches. After a couple runs down that trail, your thighs feel like mush. By the end of the day, everybody was worn out, but very satisfied with the terrain and snow conditions. Our one Nordic skier received a free lift ride to the top of the hill and then she spent all day skiing the Nordic trails along the wooded ridges. Our "senior" skiers had a great deal, with $10 lift ticket for skiers in their late 60's and free skiing for 70+ year olds.

After skiing, we drove to the town of Olean, NY, for our dinner stop. Olean, NY, offered a choice of over a dozen restaurants -- all within walking distance of the bus. After dinner, we all jumped back on the bus and we arrived back at NASA by 11:15pm. I wanted to thank all the club members who signed up and made this trip happen, it was a shame that we still had lots of room on the bus. Ski Denton had everything that you needed, great snow conditions, a variety of trails and terrain and uncrowded slopes. I know that I'll be back again someday to Ski Denton.

On this trip, we welcomed Dave Plachta as a new member.

Fam Trip Report - Quebec City

Myself and about two-dozen other ski club representatives from the eastern US and Canada, spent three days visiting Quebec City and skiing the nearby ski areas. The Quebec Tourism Office organized this "fam" trip, which we spent two nights in downtown Quebec and two nights at Mont Sainte-Anne Ski Resort. Quebec City is located in Canada, on the St. Lawrence River, about 750 miles from Cleveland.

Quebec City has 3 ski resorts that are close to town:

Stoneham, about 20 minutes from downtown, has four mountain peaks, 1380 foot vertical, 32 trails and 326 acres. The ski area is mostly a good cruiser hill, with a very good terrain park and two express lifts. About 8 years ago, Stoneham held a World cup men slalom event which was won by Alberto Tomba.

Mont Sainte-Anne, about 30 minutes from downtown, is a "resort style" ski area, 2050 foot vertical, 56 trails and 425 acres. This ski area is more challenging, with more variety of terrain, with one gondola and 2 express lifts. Also, Mont Sainte-Anne has a lot of non-skiing activities and lodging. I saw a local outdoor broomball game and people dog sledding.

Le Massif, about 45 minutes from downtown, has its slopes are adjacent to the St. Lawrence River, 2645 foot vertical, 38 trails and 250 acres. The ski area is call a "Mountain by the Sea", and it had the most challenging terrain, with 2 express lifts. Le Massif had breathtaking views of the St. Lawrence River and the most natural snowfall in eastern Canada. Also, Le Massif is the home of the Canadian downhill/GS training center with a dedicated race course.

This year, I have skied in Utah, France, Italy and twice in New York, but could you believe that my first powder day of the year would be in Quebec! We had a twelve inch snowfall on our second day of skiing and I was finding untracked powder all day long. The other two ski days had plenty of sunshine and mild temperatures (highs in the 20's). Quebec City is removed from the Great Lakes, so they usually don't have the overcast skies like in Cleveland. Most of their storms are the Nor'easters off the Atlantic and then they have clear skies the other days. Both Mont Sainte-Anne and Le Massif usually stay open for skiing till May, so their snow really lasts. All said and done, I was quite pleased with their ski areas.

But a ski trip to Quebec is much more than just skiing. What's really unique about Quebec City is that you can stay downtown and experience the most European city in North America and still go skiing. Quebec City is an old city and has a lot of history. It was established as the first permanent settlement in Canada, in 1609 and is the Capital of the Province of Quebec. It has spent time under French and British control, before Canada was established 150 years ago. The downtown section is the only "walled" city in Canada or the US. The 6.2 mile castle-like fortress protecting the old city quarter was built on a bluff above the St. Lawrence River. The old city quarter is full of pedestrian friendly streets with unique shops, street artisans and cafes that are very similar to European cities. The Château Frontenac hotel and about 10 different cultural museums are all located in the old quarter. The architecture alone merits a visit to Quebec.

But the most memorable part of my trip was definitely the dining and cuisine. The Quebec dining establishments surely match their French heritage. Every meal was fresh and delicious from breakfast through dinner. The food and wine was all exceptional and always served in the "French style" relaxed atmosphere. In fact, at Le Massif's base lodge, their food was not cafeteria fare, but was fresh pasta, vegetables, seafood, etc. and no fast food or French fries.

We also saw many other sites around Quebec. We stopped by the Quebec Ice Hotel one evening, which had 15 sleeping rooms. The entire building and its ice sculptures were just amazing. One afternoon, we stopped at a huge snow tubing park, which also had whitewater raft slides and a go-carting on ice track. The three week long Quebec Carnival had just started when we arrived, with lots of outdoor activities and games. The following weekend was their famous ice canoe race on the 90% frozen St. Lawrence River.

Visiting Quebec anytime in the year is worth a trip, but with the good close by skiing, you'll have a great winter vacation. I certainly will go back to Quebec and hopefully our ski club will also visit Quebec too.

A quick note -- One member of our group Nordic skied all three areas and he said he had a great time and all my references about "skiing" these mountains, I really meant "snowboarding."
