CONGRATULATIONS to BARB COOL for being bumped up to BVW and getting Racer of the Year honors in CCVW !!!

I hope everyone has recovered from snow shoveling and is enjoying their ski season. It seems like it was just New Years yesterday and now the ski season is half over.

We still have a couple of one day trips left so you still have a chance to get some skiing in before the end of the season. Jim Wright is running a trip to Holiday Valley (Friday, March 2) and Cheryl Alden is running a trip to Cockaigne (Saturday, March 10). See the fliers in this newsletter for trip details and contacts.

In the next month we will be doing some arm twisting for the upcoming elections. We have a nomination committee which will be looking for candidates for some of the Ski Club Officer and Board positions. If you would like to submit yourself or someone else for a position please contact the nominating committee. Our club runs on volunteers and it's always nice to see some new faces so help out if you can.

Our next meeting ski club meeting is Tuesday, March 6th at BW3. Happy Skiing and see you on the hill or at the next meeting.

NORDIC NEWS

February has been a very good month for skiing with snow coverage continuously for several weeks. We may be nearing the end of the season with the recent warming.

Three skiers joined me for the outing at Chapin. It was a very cold morning, but skiing warmed us up quickly. We skied the entire Chapin trail system including the descent to the 306 side of the park with the parkway and short loop, followed by the climb back up to the Hobart Road side.

The Lake Effect Challenge race was another successful event. I missed it, but Jim Wright and daughter Gwen raced.

The American Birkebeiner race took place on February 24. The race is normally a 51 km course from Hayward to Cable, Wisconsin. This year it was shortened to 23 km due to poor snow coverage and 52-degree temperatures a few days before the race. This event commemorates the rescue of the infant prince Haakon in 1206 when the Birkebeiners, named for their birch bark leggings, carried the prince to safety. The boy eventually became King Haakon Haakonsson. Norwegian skiers in the modern Birkebeiner still carry a pack representing the weight of the infant prince.

In the American Birkebeiner, two skiers are selected to re-enact the legend. They dress in the traditional outfit with birch leggings, wool tunics, helmets, shields, and swords, and carry a pack representing the infant. In this year's event, there is a Cleveland connection. The two skiers selected were Phillip Schaefer and his son Michael, an assistant professor at the Case School of Medicine and MetroHealth Medical Center. For even greater fidelity to the original event, they planned to use wooden skis. RACING NEWS

Peek n Peak and Boston Mills... Well, we had a very good, but very cold weekend. Despite some email trouble and a case of CRS (sorry Lisa), we did well at both PnP on Saturday, Feb. 3 and Boston Mills on Super Bowl Sunday. Barb Cool and Mark Hyatt had a double double, taking firsts on both Saturday and Sunday on skis, while Mark backed it up in snowboard with a second and a fourth. Bruce Frankenfield came back from his injury to place 5th in GS on Saturday, and Therese Telzrow had a solid weekend taking a fourth in GS and third in slalom. Lisa Lambert paid her own way, sorry again, and finished third on Sunday, while Mikel Kaltenstein. came out and managed a very respectable 9th in a very strong AAVM class. Sorry I wasn't there sooner Mike, because I know you qualified into AVM last year, and the committee announced a reevaluation for you back into that class. So you're back where you belong, so to speak. Nice job against the big guns, just the same. The team finished fifth on Saturday, and fourth on Sunday in Division 2. We (well, Mark anyway) even did well in the raffles, as he won a board bag on Saturday, and a set of board bindings on Sunday.

Swain... Four NASA Racers made the trip to Swain, some to continue their season campaign, others to earn their eligibility for Combined. Therese, Barb, and globetrotter Elise raced CCVW, and Bruce in CCM. Barb was on fire and won both races and got her first strike during the slalom race on Sunday. Therese had two 4ths for the weekend, and as our Queen, was asked to be the awards presenter on Saturday. Elise was happy to be there and did not nap during her runs, though they were slow and she got 2-5ths. Bruce, continuing his rehab from Achilles surgery and tuning up for Combined, was happy with 2-5ths as well. Lisa does not remember her Saturday race, but the results show she finished 4th, and she wishes she did not remember her crash on Sunday.

Bristol Combined ... this is the race of races and the weekend is the big event of the season. Three races, five runs. In each class the person with the lowest combined time of all five runs wins the big trophy. For clubs, the combined points scored of all races makes the combined winner. Five racers went up in the NASA shuttle (Mark, Lisa, Barb, Bruce and eElise) with a co-pilot Jim Slifka and Karen (fashion statement) Fashimpaur as another race team's stow-away, The competition starts with an Xtra Long GS race on Saturday. Once everyone has done the one run the courses are reset and there is a GS race. On Sunday, we all return and have a slalom race. This is the wheat from chaf race with many people earning and losing the combined trophy by over- or underachieving on the hill. Saturday was cold but sunny. Barb returned to her winning style flying down the hills and getting two first places. Elise was happy with two 4ths. Lisa was in the hunt with two 4ths as well. Bruce has returned to form with a third and second place finish. Mark was also in exceptional form with two first place finishes.

Sunday loomed cool and overcast. There were three racers in the hunt for the big trophy - Mark, Barb and Bruce with a possibility. Mark was blazing fast again and "racked and stacked" his competition. Lisa held on over the icy course and got a 4th place finish. In the Group 3 race, Bruce decided to hike instead of ski on his first run and then turned in the fastest time for his class on his second run, making him the fastest, and slowest, racer of the day in CCM. The hike cost him a second Combined trophy and he had to settle for third place overall. Elise decided to body surf down the slope instead of ski and was DQ'd on her second run. Luckily Barb was more focused and completed her weekend sweep. Barb not only swept her class under the rug with her speed, she also earned her second strike and a spot next week in the BVW class.

The team's overall hard work earned them 5th place over all in Division 2, beating the Erie, Goodyear and Snowballers teams! A good time was had by all and we welcome all others to come and try the "best little race team in Metro!!"

KIRKWOOD

LAKE TAHOE

Feb. 3 to 10

We had 24 skiers and 2 boarders (yours truly was one of the cool boarders) on this trip to South Lake Tahoe. Everything went off without any problems. We flew in to Phoenix and then to Reno, NV. Our bus driver from Amador stage coach was waiting outside for us. What we got in Reno was a complete contrast to Cleveland, weather wise. Cleveland 8 degrees, Reno 57 degrees. Spring skiing conditions, here we come !!! The bus took us down to the Horizon casino where everyone checked in and got ready for the Hard Rock Café Party next door at the Harvey's Casino. The food and drinks were excellent and everyone enjoyed the meeting and relaxation. Afterward a bunch of us got together for the 1st of many social gatherings at the Horizon casino Hot Tub. I reminded everyone that we would be heading out early for Kirkwood the next day.

Day 1, Sunday, Feb 4, Kirkwood.

Our bus driver, who goes by "John" was informative and offered to guide us on a tour of Kirkwood. I believe about 12 people went with him on this expedition. The overall comment was that it was excellent. One of our members, Sue Lan Ma got hurt and John and Emil Bagi came to her rescue. It did not hamper her skiing since she went on to ski the rest of the trip. The day was gorgeous with weather heading up in the high 50's and possibly even 60's with lots of sun. I even got sunburned on my face. Most of us end up removing layers as the day went on. The snow was excellent for most of the day and got softer toward the afternoon. We met at a recommended lunch spot from John and enjoyed the social gathering with good food and drinks. This was Lorrie Haller's 1st experience with skiing out west and she took it easy and by the end of the trip had really improved considerably. We got back to the bus by 4 and headed back to the hotel.

That night a bunch of us went to the FIRE and ICE restaurant. It was Mongolian style cooking. The food was very good and the company was even better. It was right next to the Heavenly Gondola and they also had an outdoor fire ring for after skiing gathering.

Also of note was that this also happened to be Superbowl Sunday. They started around 3pm so some of us caught the tail end of it and we saw the Colts win.

Day 2, Monday, Feb 5, Sierra at Tahoe

We got off to a slight delay due to the Sierra bus being late (about 15 minutes). Other than that, the day was great. Again, the day was gorgeous with weather heading up in the 60's with lots of sun. We had the same conditions with the snow. The snow was excellent for most of the day and got softer toward the afternoon. I think Lorraine Lipinski and I were the last ones off the slope. We all agreed that it was a very good ski day. We met for lunch on the peak of Sierra and were treated to a beautiful view of Lake Tahoe and the Sierra Mountains.

After the good day of skiing, we hit the Hot Tub before heading out to dinner. For dinner, I was very happy to see just about everyone out together at the CABO WABO Cantina restaurant. We had great food and drinks and socialization.

Day 3, Tuesday, Feb 6, 1st of 2 day pass to Heavenly

Since Heavenly is only a short distance away, we get to sleep in a little. We hit the slopes about 9. The morning session was excellent but again the afternoon saw warm weather and soft slushy snow. Mr. Sunshine stayed with us the whole time. Overall, a good ski day. It was this day I had a pretty good bump to the head. I caught a bad edge and down I went. It took a lot out of me. Kids, if you are snowboarding, wear a helmet !! It will do you good.

For dinner we got a big group to go out to Cecil Brew and Steak. Again good food, good spirit and general great companies.

Day 4, Wednesday, Feb 7, a day of rest

Most of us rested this day. We went shopping, gambling, drinking, and partying. A few opted to ski at Heavenly and said it was excellent skiing (per Judy Traxler). I know our very own diehard skier Cheryl Alden ventured to Squaw Valley and said it was pretty good skiing.

Day 5, Thursday, Feb 8, 2nd of 2 day pass to Heavenly

In my opinion, this was the best day of the trip since we actually got a few inches of fresh snow the night before. The temp was much cooler and the conditions were excellent. I can't speak for everyone but I boarded till 3pm.

That night we went to a local Chinese eatery for dinner. The place was small but cozy. The food was great and inexpensive.

Day 6, Friday, Feb 9 Squaw Valley

The day started out with rain. As we traveled on the bus, we saw a foggy view of the lake combining with rain. When we got to Squaw, it was raining steadily. Undeterred, just about everyone went up on the gondola. The interesting thing here is that the rain turned into snow as we went up in elevation. So while the bottom was pouring rain, the top of Squaw was covered in what the locals call Sierra Cement. It was snowball making conditions. My opinion was that it was too difficult to see or ski. I stopped after 2 runs and sat inside and chatted with Dale Gynn for the duration of the day. Other die hard ski fans stayed out for most of the day.

We all met back on the bus and went to the Tahoe Queen for a trip across the lake. We dined and partied and had a great time. NASA Lewis Ski Club ROCKED the boat !!! We got just about everybody up and dancing and grooving. The band was awesome !!!

Afterward we continued the party in Charles Marchant's and Paul Solano's room and stayed up till 11:30pm. Excellent party !!

The next day, we got back on the bus for the trip to Reno, got on our plane and headed back to Cleveland. I managed to get 2 final group pics from these guys.

I'd like to thank all of the people signing up for this trip. The great dynamics of the people made this trip a great success. Everyone had an excellent time and got along great. You guys definitely made my life easier by being so gracious and fun. I am also grateful for the gifts you bestowed upon me. I will cherish this memory for a very long time. Thanks everyone !
