President's message...

The 2013 New Year is officially here, complete with beautiful wintry weather and of course SNOW! This year, the new year has started off on a good ski with a solid blanket of snow in northern Ohio. Hopefully you have already had the opportunity to get out and enjoy the recent snow falls as the ski and snowboard season gets underway.

Your volunteer day-trip leaders have already been very busy collecting sign-ups for the upcoming alpine ski/snowboard trips this season. Be sure to thank your trip leaders for volunteering to take the club to the slopes this season. Consider signing up for one of our day trips this season. Don't delay too long or the bus will be full. Also, by signing up early it helps us determine if there is enough interest to support an additional bus for the trip.

As the ski season gets into full swing here in January, keep a close watch on the club's calendar and the newsletter for activities. In addition, if you have an idea for an off-slope or on-slope activity, get in touch with the club's activity officer.

For those of you who prefer to wait until the snow falls before making solid plans, watch the club's last-minute email list for impromptu outings or make a posting yourself. The e-mail list is for use by all members to self organize last minute outings. Did a big storm just drop a powder day? Email the list and find some people to share it with. More information on the last-minute e-mail list is found on the club's web page: <http://www.lewisskiclub.org/email-list>

See you at a club meeting this season and until then, it's time to make some fresh tracks in the snow.

—Aaron
