From The Race Team by Elise Allen

2018 race report – Combined events –

April 25, 2018 -A WIN!! And a LaLaLand moment ...

The last report was through the middle of February. The last two race weekends were Swain (Snowboard combined) and Bristol (skier combined). I know we forget quickly, the weather in late February was not terrific for racing ... BUT, we did prevail and attend all of the weekends. Swain started February 24th with the Snowboard XLGS race. There was a course reset for snowboarders GS and a skier A Racer GS, reset for skier groups 2 and 3 GS. THEN ... because of weather conditions, the snowboarders followed up with a slalom race.

Snowboarder Combined -

It was a really tough day for the snowboarders who are also skiers because of the multiple changes in gear. Our mighty team of four (4) boarders were rocking and rolling in their events and were solid on the slopes. We swept the XLGS race (1,2 and 3 and Mike B getting 5th. Rock on kids! In the GS race, the team had a 1,2,4,and5 again a solid showing. After all of the gear changes, the Boarders had their last competition and again, we really had a great showing. Spoiler alert Mark Hyatt really set the courses on fire and WON the snowboard combined. I think Mark has won three of the four we have had in the past years

The snowboard team did really well and showed what a mighty team we are.

The rest of the weekend We had ski races on Saturday but because of rain Sunday was cancelled late Saturday night. On Saturday, the A Racers (group 1) had conditions that deteriorated quickly as the racers came down the course but we still did well (See below). The conditions by the time the groups 2/3 racers went down were scary. There was ice and huge piles of rocky slush on the sides. Elise took the long way down and finished ...

The other adventure on Saturday was the Special Olympics going on at the same time. There were multiple score boards and it was entertaining to watch the people come up to the CMSC board to see what their friends were doing and not understand it was a different race crew. There were three courses going between Special Olympics and CMSC, what a crazy day at Swain! Once, while we (Bruce and Elise) were skiing over to the lift we were stopped by a person who asked how we had done. Bruce said how he had done in snowboard and that I had not raced yet. The man wished us good luck and was very supportive ... I asked Bruce who he was and when Bruce told me he did not know, I laughed and said he thought we were special Olympians and was cheering us on. OK, a cheering section is terrific, no matter what!!

Since Sunday was cancelled we all got home early and headed to Bristol the following weekend. Renee and Tom started traveling early Friday am and got caught in a storm that took the four (4) hour trip to about seven (7) ... Bruce, Elise and Lisa started at the 4pm time and made our hotel in about 5 even with a dinner stop.

With the snow, we expected great conditions but ... maybe we are picky but it was another tough free ski day. We also had two snowboard races this weekend as a new event. The snowboard races did not count into the Combined total for the weekend. Yes, slightly confusing!! Saturday was a busy day with the first two ski races and then the snowboard races. We lost two skiers for the weekend. Mark was off to Europe for a business trip so was not with us. Lisa had gotten injured the week before and was not racing this week. Lisa did come to cheer us all on.

The first race, the SUPERXL Giant Slalom was a rough ride. The conditions by the time the B racers came down were scary and icy - not as bad as the week before but still not great. Almost all of us survived and we were in great position to do well. The ski racers did their Saturday races before the snowboarders did their races to reduce the on/off adventures for the dual participants. The GS was a little scarier than the Super G but again, we all survived. On Sunday ... the slalom takes many prisoners and we lost one racer due to the course/conditions/slalom jitters on combined Sunday.

The snowboard racers (Tom and Bruce) were in a class by themselves that weekend and did much to help themselves complete the year in their snowboard class as 2 and 3. Bruce won one race and Tom the other.

Ok, for combined, we listened to team points as they were rattling off all that the racers had compiled. We had done well but not SUPER. So the race committee was listing team points for the weekend and where we expected to see our name and points We were not called. Then they got to #1 in Div 2 ...and we were called Pandemonium ...(I was hoarse for a few days for screaming) then the race committee called back the accounting firm and we were in 4th place (as expected). I am not sure how the points were calculated but the snowboarder points had been added in for us so we were inaccurately listed as #1. OK, we know we are #1, but CMSC does not recognize that fact

It was an interesting season and while I miss the snow, I look forward to being able to get in condition for next year!

Photos included are Mark's win, the team at Bristol and the team at the Banquet – look at all of that hardware!!
